

Seminars this week will consist of preparing for the final exam, especially the essay component of the exam. We will workshop ideas for planning and organizing an essay on various topics relating to the course texts. Students should come to seminars with a good knowledge of all the course texts.

There should also be opportunity to ask any question you may have about the course in preparation for the exam.